GTO, Inc. announces the release of New Corporate Website

Tallahassee, Fla. – May 21, 2009 – GTO Inc (Gates That Open) launches a new corporate website www.gtoinc.com with an exciting new look. “We have completely redesigned the corporate site, it is now easy to navigate and provides comprehensive information about GTO and it brands”, said Kevin Peaden, Vice President of Sales. The new site reflects GTO's continued commitment, as the industry leader in gate automation and access controls, to provide innovative, affordable and reliable Professional/DIY products. “The corporate site was designed to reflect where GTO is today and to be developed as a site that can keep up with the fast paced growth we are experiencing” said Brian Campbell, IT Director.

The New GTO Inc. corporate site is more informative, easier to use and helps to guide customers to the correct brand and product for their application. Since 1987 GTO has been a strong supporter of the community that supports them and the new site has a designated location that recognizes those associations. The new interface easily accommodates increased traffic as GTO continues to expand its markets. The site tells the story about GTO's mission and vision as well as our company history, available careers and our community involvement. The new website reflects GTO's continued excellence in delivering superior Automatic Gate Access Systems and services to all customers.

Please take a few moments to browse the new sites. We sincerely appreciate your feedback and input.
